INSIDE OUT

Fun ways spruce up your outdoor living space with a new piece or two, just in time for summer.

By Casey Gillespie

1. Jiun Ho's Franca Lounge Chair is inspired by classic Brazilian design with a woven seat and back and a natural finish that will weather beautifully. For added comfort, purchase the seat and back cushion (sold separately). Available at De Sousa Hughes (101 Henry Adams Street, Ste. 272, San Francisco), inquire for pricing

2. There is no easier way to refresh a patio or deck than by adding a rug. Roche Bobois' Hexagone indoor/outdoor rug is hand crocheted in beautiful neutral tones that will seamlessly meld into its surroundings (it measures about 6.5 by 10 feet). Available at Roche Bobois (701 Eighth Street, San Francisco) and www.roche-bobois.com, $4,750

3. RH's Gemini Sofa (shown here in natural) is made of handwoven wicker and plays with light and shadows, making it both a comfortable and an interesting addition. Customize with 70-plus fabric choices. Available at RH (The Village at Corte Madera) and www.rh.com, price starts at $4,255

4. James De Wulf's Mosaic Lily Exo Side Table is made of concrete, bronze and stainless steel and weighs in at a whopping 75 pounds. But the pattern is so delicate that it will appear light as a petal. The finishing wax will develop a gradual patina over time. Available at Mecox Gardens (1300 First Street, Ste. 352, Napa) or www.jamesde wulf.com, $13,200

5. Everything about Terra Outdoor Living says summer. We love this Avila Lounge Chair and Avila Teak Ottoman set — classic teak with sumptuous curves and oversized all-weather cushions. Available at Terra Outdoor Living (258 Bolinas Street, Mill Valley) and www.terraoutdoor.com, chair $1,189, ottoman $489
