The Jiun Ho IV Furniture Collection is a collaboration with Sandra Jordan Prima Alpaca, purveyor of luxury textiles from the Andes of Peru. You can get a sneak peek at a festive launch party, benefitting the Museum of Contemporary Art Denver (MCA Denver) and sponsored by Interiors Magazine and TOWN, on Tuesday, April 29.

The event kicks off at 4:30 p.m. with a one-hour panel discussion titled "Home Is Where the Art Is." Michael Wolleager, Editorial Director of Interiors Magazine, will join Jiun Ho, Sandra Jordan, and Kimberly Chanin, principal of Chanin Art Advisory, as they share their thoughts on the role of art in interior settings.

Then the South American music begins and the pouring of Pisco Sours will commence, while you have an opportunity to browse the 13-piece Jiun Ho IV collection that "takes a romantic journey across South America from the salt flats of Bolivia to the ruins of Machu Picchu and the glaciers of Chile." The benches, coffee tables, side tables and couches, armchairs and dining chairs upholstered in sumptuous Prima Alpaca were inspired by "the ancient architecture and vast, unbridled landscapes of South America" and deftly mix refined lines with rugged textures.

The April 29 event is free and open to the public, but please RSVP to: info@jiunho.com
