

THE BEST NEW STORES

< GARY RIGGS HOME, DALLAS

Decorator Gary Riggs has opened his second Dallas store, in a 45,000-square-foot space. Furniture, lighting, and accessories by Henredon, Visual Comfort & Co., Barbara Barry, and Ralph Lauren Home, among others, are displayed in more than 30 rooms on three expansive floors. Interior design services are also available. 5217 Alpha Rd., 214-547-1054; garyriggshome.com

✓ JIUN HO DE JIA, SAN FRANCISCO

Located in the SoMa district, this carefully curated showroom—its name is Chinese for “the House of Jiun Ho”—presents art, antiques, and accessories the designer has collected on his extensive world travels. Jiun’s own creations are also on offer, including bronze cocktail tables inspired by a trip to Botswana. 1180 Folsom St., 415-437-2284; jiunho.com

▲ OBJECT, SEATTLE

Photographer Charlie Schuck opened Object to showcase designs by emerging and established Seattle talents. He also mixes in pieces from Japan and Scandinavia, regions that have influenced the culture of the Pacific Northwest. Housed in a 1920s Art Deco building, the shop evokes a styled photo studio with its clean white walls and abundant natural light. 2316 2nd Ave., 206-459-3876; hereisobject.com

> ILLUMÉ, NEW YORK CITY

This handsome Manhattan boutique, inspired by high-end Parisian lampshade galleries, offers bespoke and ready-made shades imported from Paris, Amsterdam, and Quebec. The hand-sewn shades are crafted from luxurious Italian and Chinese silks and Belgian linen in a variety of patterns and hues. 223 E. 58th St., 212-308-1400; illumenyc.com

Now Open

- Belgian company Emery & Cie has moved its distinctive furniture, lighting, tiles, paints, and patterned textiles into a new, larger space in Brussels. 78 Quai des Charbonnages, 011-32-2-513-58-92; emeryetcie.com
- Jonathan Adler’s vibrant gifts and graphic furnishings are available at his new shop in Greenwich, Connecticut. 88 Greenwich Ave., 203-622-1476; jonathanadler.com
- Italian tile manufacturer Sicis is expanding its international presence with a showroom in Hong Kong, where the firm’s elaborate mosaics will be on display. 239 Queen’s Rd. E., sicis.com